This 6m x 3m site is centrally located in the township of Gympie, near the corner of Tozer Street and Station Street, and is viewed by traffic on both streets.

Gympie, an old gold mining town, is one of Queensland's most historic townships and is popular with tourists who are drawn by the history of gold, timber and other bush craft industries. Gympie is also one of the main turnoff points for Fraser Island and Rainbow Beach, two very popular holiday destinations.

Nearby: Centrally located in Gympie, near the railway station and busy agricultural supply outlets.
