Situated on the left-hand side of the road, this excellent site faces traffic travelling into the Townsville central business district. It is adjacent to the new North Queensland Stadium currently under construction, due to open in 2020. It is one of only two Supersites that face traffic heading into Townsville. Saunders Street is one of three main roads used to access Townsville's CBD. Any traffic travelling along the highway from the south use this road as the easiest and quickest way to access the city.

Restrictions: No political, religious advertising; Tower access required
